Pluxee acknowledges the filing of a claim by the Chilean Competition Authority

Paris – May 27, 2026 // Pluxee (“Group”) has become aware of the filing of a claim by the Fiscalía Nacional Económica (FNE - the Chilean Competition Authority) before the Tribunal de Defensa de la Libre Competencia (TDLC), concerning its subsidiary Pluxee Chile. This proceeding relates to alleged anticompetitive conduct in the employee benefits sector in Chile between 2013 and 2021.

The FNE’s complaint initiates judicial proceedings before the TDLC, which must proceed through its procedural stages, with the TDLC ultimately deciding on the merits of the case.

The Group will assess the content of the claim and determine the appropriate measures.

Pluxee strongly reaffirms that compliance and ethical business conduct are fundamental pillars of the Group. Its Ethics and Compliance policy is subject to continuous reinforcement and supported by trainings and controls across all countries where it operates, ensuring these principles are fully integrated in employee business conduct.
